

Committee name*Submitted by: The country submitting the resolutionTopic: The committee topicCOMMITTEE NAME,*Preambulatory Clauses:

The preambulatory clauses outline the various concerns that the committee aims to address. They express the committee's rationale for tackling the issue and highlight previous global initiatives related to it. The following data can be included in the preambulatory clauses:

- References to previous UN conventions, resolutions, treaties, or declarations relevant to the topic at hand.
- Acknowledgment of prior national, regional, or non-governmental efforts to address this issue.
- Citations of the United Nations Charter or other international agreements and regulations.
- Facts or general background information regarding the subject, its significance, and its impacts.

Operative Clauses:

The operative clauses provide specific solutions to the concerns raised in the preambulatory clauses. Each operative clause relates directly to the issues mentioned earlier. Each operative clause should be numbered and italicized.
